Northeast Dallas, Texas, Also Has Water Problems

MISERY LOVES COMPANY; so I guess it should be of interest if Timmo tells of another city—larger than Harrisburg—that has been having its water troubles.

Water has been tasting bad in Northeast Dallas, Texas, according to the Dallas Morning News. We have just about got our water problem whipped and maybe Dallas has, too, but back on Aug. 1 it hadn't.

The story relates that on July 31 Dallas brought in a specialist from Pennsylvania to try to do something about the bad taste of water coming from White Rock lake.

Continued the article: "Last week White Rock lake apparently 'turned over,' producing a highly objectionable woody, musty taste from decaying vegetation on the bottom of the lake.

"In an attempt to kill the taste, the water department stopped pre-filtration chlorination and added more activated carbon. That helped, but cutting out the chlorine before filtration permitted algae to grow in the filters and made the taste worse.

"Water Superintendent Henry J. Graesser then called for Joe Filicky, specialist on water taste and odor for a company from which Dallas buys chemicals, to come from Tyrone, Pa., to help out."

The newspaper quoted Graesser as saying "We have whipped the problem before and will whip it again," and as also declaring:

"Any time there is a long string of 100-degree days, water from a small lake like White Rock will get a bad taste because of decaying vegetation, lack of oxygen or algae."

OIL REPORT:

Brushy Test Still Hot Spot

Taken from the Robertson Tri-State Oil Report

Last week's Saline county hot spot continued to be hot this week as the producers, Calvert Drilling and Ed Rehn, went down to the Aux Vases line at 2940-62 for a test of their Calvin Brown Heirs No. 1, SW NW SW, 22-8-5e (Brushy). A two hour test at 2944-59 gassed in four minutes and flowed in 15 minutes with a bottom hole pressure of 1,325 pounds.

The operation became a center of attraction last week because of a test of the Hardinsburg, first such operation within 10 miles. In that formation, a two hour test at 2322-52 recovered 50 feet of gas, 190 of clean oil and 80 of mud-mixed oil and had a bottom hole pressure of 625 pounds.

There were three completions reported, a well in Galatia and a dry hole in Eldorado and one in Cottage.

Producer was the Calvert-King-Stevenson Bennett No. 1, SW NW SE, 14-8-5e, which made an oil well in the Aux Vases with initial production 25 barrels of oil and seven of water per day on pump.

Dry were the Yemm-Jansen H. Shane No. 1, NW SE SE, 15-8-7e (Eldorado) and Kewane's Ernie Communitized No. 1, NE NW SE.

Mrs. Caroline Moore of Equality To Observe Her 90th Birthday Sunday

Mrs. Caroline Moore

Mrs. Caroline Moore, Equality's oldest citizen, will be 90 years of age Monday, Aug. 13, but her birthday will be formally observed Sunday when her sons, their families and other relatives and friends will call to pay their respects to the elderly lady.

Mrs. Moore is a life-long resident of the Gallatin county area and has lived in Equality since the early 1920s.

Spry for her age, Mrs. Moore lives alone during the summer months, doing her own housework and cooking and visiting with her neighbors. She states she prefers to live in her own home and have her family come visit her, but during the winter months she visits with her three sons who live in this section.

She has four sons, Mora Moore, RFD, Equality, a school teacher in Gallatin county; Howard Moore, Harrisburg miner and grocery store owner; Norman Moore, principal of the Carbondale Junior high school, and Elmer Moore, who lives in Jonesboro, Tenn.

Another son, Homer, died several years ago and her husband, Logan Moore, died in 1942.

There are seven grandchildren—Vernon Moore, serving with the U. S. Army, stationed at Camp Crowder, Mo.; Russell Moore, East Alton, Mo.; Leo Moore, Evansville, Ind.; Ensign Robert W. Moore, at the U. S. Navy station, Quonset Point, R. I.; Loveta Richardson, Detroit; Vivian Bennett, Harrisburg, and Jack Moore, Alton. Also there are eight great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Moore is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cheek and was orphaned at the early age of five. Most of her childhood was spent in and near Karbers Ridge.

Wilson Says Will Seek Evidence For Special Grand Jury Aug. 31

State's Attorney Robert V. Wilson this morning stated that he would make an effort to get evidence ready regarding excessive payments to the county clerk so that he can present it to a special grand jury Aug. 31.

State's Attorney Wilson must first petition the circuit court asking that such a grand jury be called.

Wilson's remarks came after Circuit Judge C. Ross Reynolds of Vienna earlier this morning said that a special grand jury could be called at any time, in replying to reports that a grand jury would not be available here until the September term of court and that August is a circuit court vacation month.

Wilson, who said he was under the impression that no such actions are taken during August, said that since he has learned circuit judges are available, he will go ahead with plans to try to get the evidence before the grand jury Aug. 31.

Judge Reynolds said that he is not on vacation this month, that he will start a term of circuit court in Vienna Aug. 20 and one at Metropolis Aug. 27.

He also stated that he will be in Saline county circuit court on Aug. 17 and Aug. 31 to hear matters that attorneys may wish to bring before him. He said these two default days have been established for years.

Judge Reynolds declared also that he believed that all three judges of the district are available at the present as he has a meeting scheduled for Monday with the other two, Judge Harold Zimmerman of Marion and Judge Clarence E. Wright of Carbondale.

Has Never Refused Request

The remarks of Judge Reynolds, made over telephone to a Daily Register reporter from Vienna this morning, came after he had learned of yesterday's article in The Daily Register which pertained to an attorney-general's opinion that County Clerk Don B. Garrison could not lawfully expend for salary more than the $5,500 per year appropriated by the Saline County Board of Supervisors.

The story quoted the state's at-

Jam-Packed Program For SEIEC Meeting

Electric appliance displays, beauty show, talent contest, safety demonstrations, business meeting, election of members to the board of directors, free movies, free pony rides and other entertainment are on the schedule of events for the 17th annual meeting of the Southeastern Illinois Electric Co-op to be held at the SEIEC headquarters in Eldorado Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 20-21.

The jam-packed two-day program starts at 5 p. m. Monday with the opening of the display booths. The program will continue until about 9:30 that evening.

Tuesday, Aug. 21, the co-op's business meeting will occupy a big part of the morning, although there is entertainment by Keith Pierce at the electric organ listed from 9:30 to 10.

The Tuesday afternoon program will feature the annual beauty contest and other entertainment, including a return performance by the winners of the talent contest, organ music and novelty act by Nardini and Nadyne.

The terms of office of four members of the board of directors expires this year and a nominating committee has recommended that all four be re-elected. Nominated to succeed themselves are: W. L. Bradley, Gallatin county; W. E. Hunt, Hamilton county; George Aydelott, Saline county, and Ray Webb, Johnson.

Other members of the SEIEC Board are: Gilbert Galloway, Franklin county; J. P. Clemens, Pope county; Hosea Barlow, Gallatin county; Clarence Sutton, Saline county; Thurman White, Williamson county; Esol Oxford, Hardin county; Loyd Pickard, Franklin county.

One of the electric displays expected to attract considerable interest, according to SEIEC officials, is a Kelvinator range with electronic oven. Hot dogs, hams, pop corn and other foods will be prepared in the electronic oven during demonstrations, it has been announced.

The quick preparation of foods is the big feature of the oven, it is said.

In discussing the electronic oven, it was described in part as follows: "It has a magnetron vacuum tube, operating like a small broadcast station beaming high frequency radio waves, called microwaves, into the food. Waves are reflected from the metal walls of the range, are transmitted right through glass, china or paper, and absorbed only by the food."

It is said an ear of pop corn can be put in a paper sack, placed in the oven and the corn will be popped right off the cob.

The talent contest, scheduled to start at 8 p. m. Monday, will feature ten of the top entertainment acts in southeastern Illinois. More than twenty girls are expected to participate in the beauty show Tuesday afternoon.

First place winners in both the beauty and talent contest will represent the SEIEC in the State contest early in September.

Special entertainment will be provided for the youngsters. A Roy Rogers movie and cartoons will be shown Monday evening free for the kids and there will be free pony rides throughout the meeting, both Monday evening and all day Tuesday.

At East St. Louis, authorities also served a subpoena on another Wortman associate, Sam Magin, to appear here before the grand jury Aug. 27.

Air Force Sergeant Claims He Was Shot By 'Russian Flier' Who Kidnaped Wife

NORTH BRANFORD, Conn. (UP)—The FBI and Office of Strategic Information joined state police today in sifting the story of Air Force Sgt. Robert Drepperd, 26, that he was shot by a "Russian flier" who kidnaped his wife.

An emergency operation was performed at a Middletown hospital to remove a bullet slug which pierced Drepperd's right hand, penetrated his cheek and lodged in his throat. His condition was reported critical.

Meantime, bloodhounds were employed in a search for Mrs. Grace Drepperd, 27. The assailant forced her to go with him after the shooting, according to the account given investigators by Drepperd.

The couple's 19-month-old child, Steven, found alone in the house after police were notified by a neighbor, was being cared for by a policeman.

Drepperd said he and his wife were watching television Friday night when a man, wearing a pale-green high-collared uniform of plastic or rubber, and a gun belt, knocked at the door and asked for a glass of water. Drepperd said the stranger at first told him he was a state policeman and later that he was "Russian flier" who had been shot down.

Connecticut State Police wear charcoal-gray uniforms with light-gray broad-brimmed hats.

Mrs. Drepperd, mother of one child, was forced out the door by the assailant, according to Drepperd. They fled to a woods nearby, he said.

The shooting-kidnaping took place five miles from Durham, where an unidentified gunman shot and killed John H. Davis, Jr., 22, as he was sitting in a parked automobile with his fiancée, Carol Brookes, 19, shortly before midnight July 29. Miss Brookes was shot in the arm. No motive has been established for the killing.

The 46 indictments returned were against Edward A. Epping, Hodge's former auditor's office manager and charged embezzlement, forgery and confidence.

Two more indictments returned linked Hodge and Epping together with Edward A. Hintz, ex-president of a Chicago bank where most of Hodge's fraudulent checks were cashed. The two new indictments charged Hodge, Epping and Hintz with conspiracy to defraud the state and to perpetrate a confidence game.

Coutrakon has recommended $50,000 bond for Epping and a $25,000 bond for Hintz. Epping's lawyer protested the recommendations as "perfectly silly and a grandstand play."

Another witness before the grand jury Friday was Mrs. Margaret Hodge, the ousted auditor's wife, who sobbingly denied she had known her husband was embezzling state funds. She also waived immunity.

Wortman and Dowling were given subpoenas immediately after their jury appearances for another session with the same jury Aug. 27 to testify about whether Hodge was ever handed cash by them to boost his political career.

Coutrakon said it was possible he would demand that Wortman and Dowling be cited for contempt if they plead the Fifth Amendment Aug. 27 even though their answers might not necessarily incriminate them.

At East St. Louis, authorities also served a subpoena on another Wortman associate, Sam Magin, to appear here before the grand jury Aug. 27.

Season's First Full Hurricane Rips Toward W. Indies

MIAMI (UP)—The season's first full-blown hurricane ripped through the South Atlantic toward the West Indies with winds up to 120 miles an hour and signs of heightening fury today.

The storm, dubbed Betsy, clipped along at 16 miles an hour and weathermen expected the whirler to pass near the oft-battered Island of Dominica before noon.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at 6 a. m. EDT ordered Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands placed on hurricane watch with a warning that the tempest was likely to increase in intensity during the next 12 hours.

Administration Silent on Charge By Sen. Kefauver

WASHINGTON (UP)—The administration maintained silence today on Sen. Estes Kefauver's charge that high administration officials "violated the criminal code" in handling the Dixon-Yates case.

Kefauver, who headed a Senate subcommittee investigation of the now defunct power contract, accused Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams of using "his high office to try to prevent public disclosure of wrongdoing."

He accused atomic energy chief Lewis L. Strauss, former budget director Rowland R. Hughes and Chairman J. Sinclair Armstrong of the Securities & Exchange Commission of conspiring with Adams to "conceal the facts."

He called on Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. to present the matter to a grand jury "without further delay."

The Democratic Tennessee senator made the accusations Friday night in a statement accompanying a report by his judiciary subcommittee staff on the Dixon-Yates investigation.

Kefauver was at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago, disclosing he "would feel inclined to accept" the vice presidential nomination if it were offered to him.

White House and Justice Department spokesmen declined immediate comment on the accusations. Officials named by Kefauver also declined immediate comment or were unavailable.

Scott Leaves For Convention

Attorney Don Scott of Harrisburg, who is favorable to Adlai Stevenson's candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination, left this morning for the Democratic National Nominating convention in Chicago.

Atty. Scott is an alternate delegate from this district.

Leroy Barham, Harrisburg, a delegate to the convention, has been in Chicago since the middle of this week and Gordon Franklin of Marion, the other delegate from the district, left this morning, it is reported.

The district's other alternate delegate, Rev. Lewis H. Dawley of Carbondale, leaves Sunday afternoon for the convention.

Sunday afternoon the Illinois delegation will meet at the Morrison hotel, Scott stated, at which time a chairman of the delegation will be elected and a national committeeman and committeewoman will be elected.

Scott also stated that Adlai Stevenson was holding a reception Sunday in honor of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and he planned to attend.

Sgt. George Freedl, Asa Mitchell Injured

Wayne Lewis Cox Of Grantsburg Killed When Auto Overturns

Two local men were injured early today and a Grantsburg resident was killed when the car in which they were riding overturned on Route 37 three miles south of Goreville.

Dead is Wayne Lewis Cox, 25, Grantsburg resident whose burned body was found near the auto.

Injured were Sgt. George K. Freedl, 26, U. S. Army recruiting officer stationed at Harrisburg who lives at 1265 South Granger street, and Asa Mitchell, 29, who resides at 1258 South Granger street.

Freedl is in the Marion Memorial hospital where his condition was reported critical. He suffered a possible skull fracture and possible fractured ribs.

Mitchell, in the same hospital, was reported in fair condition. He suffered possible fractured ribs and other injuries.

State Policeman Marlen Trout of Vienna said his investigation showed that the automobile, travelling south, apparently approached a curve too fast three miles south of Goreville and failed to make the curve, knocking over a telephone pole and overturning about 75 feet from the highway, where it caught fire.

Cox' body was found about three feet from the car. The others were thrown clear of the auto.

Mitchell, who was able to talk to Officer Trout, said that he was asleep in the rear seat of the car and did not know what happened.

The burned auto, a convertible, presumably belonged to Sergeant Freedl. He apparently was driving at the time of the accident, it also was stated.

Grantsburg, where the dead man had lived, is a Johnson county community near the Pope county line on Route 146, a short distance west of Dixon Springs.

Hubert Simpson, 57, Dies; Rites Sunday at 2 p. m.

Hubert Simpson, 57, retired miner who resided at 700 Dorris street, died yesterday at 2 p. m. at the Lightner hospital. Death was caused by a heart condition from which he had suffered for ten years.

His wife, Virgie Belts, died two years ago.

He is survived by 10 children: Bill of Elgin, Helen Guley of Ledford, Wilma Guley of Harrisburg, Nada Rose, Memphis, Tenn., Jim Simpson of Monroe, Mich., Dorris Hughes, Harrisburg, Mary of Harrisburg, Troyce of Elgin, and Jack and Roy of Harrisburg; one brother, Cecil Simpson, Galatia; one sister, Bonnie Carmichael, Phoenix, Ariz., and six grandchildren.

Do You Know?

The business we are in is still strictly a highly competitive business. There are many other firms doing business here from which you could make your choice. The difference from your standpoint is the class of service as you know there is no difference in the market expenses regardless of your choice.

Do not be mis-led—SERVICE is the only thing we or any other firm has to offer you. To give you the service you are entitled to our salesmen must be the best, they must know how to grade, judge the market, and above all have the trading "know how."

Through our service to you you have made us one of the top ranking firms doing business on this market. It just did not happen; it took hard work and close attention to details to put us there. Is there any other way?

Rains Cause Moisture In Crawl Space

Heavy rains may cause moisture to collect in the crawl space under your house if you don't have a good way to take away roof and ground water.

First indication of water in the crawl space may be a bad odor in the rooms above. Excess water under the house may also cause moisture to penetrate the walls and affect the outside paint, says K. H. Hinchcliff, extension agricultural engineer at the university of Illinois College of Agriculture.
If you do get excess moisture in your crawl space, first check the gutters and downspouts to be sure that roof water is being carried far enough away from the foundation. You can help the situation by using drain tile or splash blocks and a well-drained slope away from the foundation.

You can also cover the ground surface in the crawl space with rolled roofing, lapping the edges several inches, to keep moisture from entering the space from below.

Band Seeding Proves Successful Method in Establishing Pastures

By Tom Morgan
Farm Planner, SCS

There are a number of factors which may affect results in establishing pastures and meadows. The method of putting the seed into the soil appears to be one of the important factors.

The "band" seeding method in establishing pastures has proven successful on many farms in recent years. Grasses and legumes seeded by the band seeding method seem to make faster early growth and thus enable the young seedlings to withstand the winter freezing better than is the case in broadcast seeding.

The difference between broadcast and band seeding lies in the placement of the grass and legume seeds in relationship to the starter fertilizer used at the time of seeding. In band seeding the seeds are placed in a "band" or row directly above a band of fertilizer.
The young seedlings thus have an ample supply of plant food available for their growth soon after the seed germinate. This results in the more rapid early growth and they go into the winter with more vigor.

Band seeding attachments are made for use on most any make of small grain drill having a grass seed box. If your drill is not now equipped with a grass seed box they too are available for most drills. With these attachments most any drill can be equipped for band seeding at reasonable cost.

Bob Alvey, Wilson Rister, Cecil Sullivan and Frank Russell have recently purchased these attachments for their drills. Cereal Wagner and Cecil Nelson equipped their drills last year. Both Wagner and Nelson have secured wonderful stands by following this method of seeding.

The Saline County Soil Conservation District has purchased a set of attachments that can be used on double disk drills. They will be available for use by district cooperators who would like to try this method of seeding. If you are interested in using them see or call Tom Morgan, Farm Planner, at the District office, Room 6, City Hall, Harrisburg.

Cool Cows Give More Milk

Cool cows give more milk during hot summer months, says Dr.
K. E. Gardner, acting head of the University of Illinois Dairy Science Department.

He says tests run at the University of Illinois showed that cows which had no shade suffered greatly from the heat. Cows showed more severe discomfort and actually had as much as 6 degrees of fever on bright days when there was no wind.

An inexpensive shade can be made by using pole construction with hay thrown on top of woven wire for the roof. Gardner recommends hay because its cost is relatively low and because it will allow air to circulate through the roof. This shade can be built on skids so that it can be moved.

Forests Offer Opportunity For Recreation

L. B. Culver, extension forester at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, suggests that forests offer opportunity for wholesome outdoor recreation.

In a forest you'll be able to enjoy such excellent vacation activities as camping, picnicking, fishing, hiking, hunting and nature study, Culver says.

Because private forests generally lack improvements, they may not be so attractive as public forests where recreation is an organized part of the land-use program, the specialist points out. In Illinois the Shawnee National Forest in the southern tip of the state offers fine possibilities for recreation.
State forests are located in Henderson, Mason and Union counties.

In addition, many of the Illinois state parks offer opportunities for hiking, picnicking and nature study.

Keep your forest vacation experience a happy one by avoiding poisonous plants, Culver suggests.
Be prepared to ward off insects with a good repellent, use only a tested water supply and, if you plan to explore or travel off the beaten path, get an area map and use a compass so you'll know where you are at all times.

For opportunities for Illinois forest vacations, you can write to the Division of Parks and Memorials, Springfield, for a copy of "Illinois State Parks and Memorials." Or you can write to the forest supervisor, Harrisburg, for a copy of "A Forest Outing Awaits You in the Shawnee National Forest," or to the Forest Service, Washington, D. C., for information on national forests in other states.

Disbud Roses to Increase Size

URBANA—You can increase the size of individual roses by removing some of the flower buds from the developing stems or shoots, says C. E. Ackerman, University of Illinois floriculture specialist.
This process, known as disbudding, should be done when the flower buds are very small.

To remove a bud, hold the main shoot in one hand and grasp the bud stem with the other. Twist the bud stem quickly from side to side, and snap it from the shoot.
Usually the terminal or topmost bud is selected for the flower, and all other buds are removed. This terminal bud then develops into a large flower.

If you want large exhibition types or single-stemmed roses from your hybrid tea, you must disbud the plants. However, a partial disbudding of the flower-bud cluster is satisfactory if you want larger flowers in floribundas or other roses bearing many flowers on a stem. In this case, remove all but about three buds.
You can disbud climbing roses
as well as the bush types.

Crushing Alfalfa Hay Cuts Curing One-Half

Crushing hay cuts curing time in half for alfalfa, says John H.
Ramser, University of Illinois agricultural engineer. And coarsestemmed soybean hay dries in one third the normal time when crushed. Fine-stemmed forages, however, are not affected by crushing as much as the coarser stemmed forages.

Ramser says 30 to 40 acres of alfalfa or equivalent are needed to pay the cost of a crusher.

The hay passes between rollers which crush the stems, allowing them to dry in about the same time as the leaves. The leaves do not become over-dry and shatter as they do in non-crushed hay.

Ten percent more protein is saved in the leaves of crushed hay, and twice as much carotene is stored, since curing time is cut in half.
Carotene is the source of vitamin
A.

In dry, warm weather you can cut and bale the same day. Crushing may sometimes save the total hay crop. If the crop gets wet, you may have one half to total loss.

The disadvantage of hay crush-ers is their high price. The crusher itself costs between $700 and $850, and a crusher-mower combination costs $1,100.

A crusher will pay for itself,
however, if you have 30 to 40 acres of hay which may be lost by bad weather.

Karbers Ridge History Told at Meeting of County Society

The August meeting of the Saline County Historical society was held in Vinyard Chapel at Karbers Ridge, featuring a potluck supper and a program of that area's history.

The supper was well attended by the residents of Karbers Ridge to whom much of the success of the evening's program can largely be accredited. Rev. John Henshaw, pastor of the chapel, said grace before the meal was served. Approximately 85 people attended either the supper or the program.

The program opened with Louis Aaron presiding. After the Karbers Ridge residents and society members and guests were introduced, Harvey Suits presented a musical program. A quartet composed of Harvey Suits, Ray Durham, James Joyce and Imogene Piland gave two numbers, and a trio composed of Imogene Piland, Pauline Banks and Maxine Douglas, sang two numbers.

Original Name Cross Roads
Mr. Aaron then stated the subjects, about which the Society wished to learn. Cross Roads was first and some of the older residents stated that the name was given because two roads crossed at the spot now known as Karbers Ridge, but originally called Cross Roads. The north-south road was very important as settlers from Kentucky and Tennessee traveled this road in order to reach the salt wells at Equality and purchase their annual supply of salt. This road also gave the Cross Roads residents an outlet to Elizabethtown where they could ship their huge potato crops by barge on the Ohio and transport their pig iron to the mills in Pennsylvania.

The east-west road was used by some residents to reach the iron furnace and Wolrab Mill, as well as an outlet to the north-south road leading to Elizabethtown. When Frank Karber later moved to Cross Roads and opened a store and a blacksmith shop the name of the village was changed to Karbers Ridge.

First Church
Frank Karber's new home was near a small church made of brush. This was ministered by a Rev. Vinyard, the father of the late Alex Vinyard whose funeral occurred at Vinyard Chapel the day after the society's meeting there.

Fred Gintert of Eldorado discussed Wolrab Mill, built by his grandfather. He migrated from Germany to Ohio at the age of 15. He later came to the Cross Roads section and built the water mill. Two springs furnished the water, forming a creek and a dam was built to the mill. The large wheel was an overdrive, one with a diameter of 24 feet. Wheat and corn, both were ground here and served people in the entire county and beyond. Mrs. Roscoe Johnson of Harrisburg stated that her father of Shetlerville traveled to Wolrab by ox cart to get their grain made into flour and meal. Ox teams came and stood patiently until the grain was transported into bread ingredients. Later, the mill used steam power and the race fell into disuse. The site of the mill remains.

Potato Crops
Potato growing in the early days was the next subject. Es Vinyard, Lucian Vinyard, Loren Rude and others stated that potatoes were extensively grown here. Loren Rude's family had 20 acres planted in a field at one time. These potatoes were hauled by ox or mule team to Elizabethtown and shipped by barge. The peak in potato production occurred between 1885 and 1889.

The Illinois Furnace was built in what is now Monroe precinct, Hardin county, at the south end of a 1300 acre tract of land now owned by the forest. Mr. Gintert told of the building of this furnace and how it fell and his grandfather rebuilt it and the smelting of iron began. The iron ore was mined in the hills one and two miles distant and hauled downhill by the ox team to the furnace. The pig iron was then hauled by ox team to Elizabethtown where it went via the Ohio to the steel mills.

Pits Used to Char Wood
The ox carts would often mire down in the soft fields or roads and have to be unloaded. Later as they became less soft the carts would have to be re-loaded and proceed to Elizabethtown. Pits were dug in a field near the woods for charring wood. The land would be cleared and all trees cut into appropriate pieces and placed in the pits for charring. The charcoal was then used as fuel for the furnace, smelting the iron in the ore. This land on which the pits are located is coal "Coalin" land.

There was a large boarding house near the furnace where the workers might live. Mr. Rude stated that he had seen approximately 25 of these charcoal pits and some are still visible. The furnace was located six or seven miles from Elizabethtown and ceased operating in 1895.

Decker Spring, later known as Burch Springs, was very useful to the early settlers, furnishing a supply of water when other sources failed. Several residents told of carrying water from this spring.

Stories Tell of Hardships
Volcanic rock is located on the David Suits farm and is about six feet from three feet by three feet. It is made up of several kinds of rock, all seemingly fused together.

Mrs. Gintert told of the Cross Roads residents going horseback to Equality to get salt. Her father was in the Civil War, and because of this, her mother could obtain more salt than others. Her mother always shared with her neighbors and less fortunate, and Mrs. Gintert can remember comments made by neighbors of her mother's generosity in sharing salt.

An elderly resident also told of clearing a ten acre tract of land one winter and making 500 rails to fence the clearing. These and other stories pictured the hardships, trials and struggles of the area's early settlers, but there was also a heartening humor. When one gentleman told of a runaway ox team.

The society was indeed grateful for the people who so charmingly and freely talked of their early history in order that others too might learn the same.

Fear of Losing His Curly Locks Causes Death of 5-Year-Old Boy

NEW YORK (AP) — The fear of losing his curly locks to a pair of shears caused the death Friday night of five-year-old Roberto Gutierrez.

Proud of his silken curls, long like a girl's, Roberto was told by his parents he would have to have a haircut from his father. Terrified Roberto ran to the bathroom and locked himself in.

By the time the father, Jose, was able to force open the door, he was just able to glimpse his son falling out the window. The boy struck a paved courtyard three floors below and was killed instantly.

Rivers, Harbors Bill Vetoed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans today faced an election-year fight over President Eisenhower's veto of the politically-potent $1.6 billion rivers and harbors bill.

Mr. Eisenhower vetoed the bill in the surprise move Friday. Not since 1940 when Franklin D. Roosevelt was president has a chief executive vetoed a rivers and harbors bill during an election year.

Congress traditionally is liberal in approving such projects in an election year in hopes they may improve election chances of lawmakers in the many areas affected throughout the nation.

Mr. Eisenhower charged that the lawmakers of the recent Democratic-led Congress acted on "incomplete information" in approving some of the 99 projects and 14 river basin improvements authorized by the bill.

He said Congress failed to get a review from the Army engineers or an opinion from the states involved in 32 of the projects costing more than $500 million.

The President noted that the bill only authorized projects for which the next Congress would have to supply the funds. Thus, he said, the veto need "cause no delay" in starting many worthwhile projects in the bill.

Truman Keeps Party Guessing

CHICAGO (AP) — Former President Truman kept the entire Democratic Party tingling with suspense today while it awaited announcement of his choice for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Some Democrats with purported access to inside information predicted that his choice would be Gov. Averell Harriman of New York. Mr. Truman long has been saying nice things about the governor, and did so again Friday.

Others said it was incredible that he would try to dump the front-running Stevenson at this stage.

No one could be found who claimed to have the word first hand from the ex-President himself.

Mr. Truman's announcement was promised for a news conference today, less than two days before the opening of the Democratic National Convention. The mere promise of an endorsement for someone had upset the Stevenson camp, encouraged the Harriman organization and plunged the party into a wild guessing game.

First Pipeline

Waste of raw materials in wood manufacturing industries probably is greater than in any other industry.

Security is everyone's byword in this era of tension, anxiety, and bristling competition. It's the goal of government, industry, business, family, and nations.

Security generally means being sure of something, or even someone. But, no one gets security without giving. It is not self-accomplished. Other people and factors contribute in providing our security.

Above all, God alone is the source of security and serenity. Society cancels out our security with finality when we run afoul of its standards, whereas God endows us with the privilege of obtaining forgiveness and mending our ways.

How secure are we against the disasters and perils of life and against our own imperfections? To find the answer, turn to God's Church where we will find the fountain of security.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"The Way of Christian Fellowship"

I John 1:1-10
GOLDEN TEXT: "If we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another." (I John 1:7)

INTRODUCTION — What is meant by Christian fellowship? In every age there have been false teachings. We have them today. In one country on the west coast there are more than 450 different religious sects. Many of these are various kinds of pleasant psychologies born for no other purpose than to soothe the consciences of sinful people. Any religion, no matter how good the psychology, that leaves Christ, the Son of God, out is doomed to failure. It can do nothing more than lead its followers into an eternal hell. This is the teaching of God in His word, the Bible.

We need some clear thinking today on this matter of Christian fellowship.

I FELLOWSHIP FOREVER (1:1-4)

When one becomes a Christian, he enters into an eternal fellowship. This is a fellowship which lasts throughout all of this life and the life to come. Members of this fellowship love God and their fellowmen. They have a sincere desire to win others to Christ that they, also, may become a part of this fellowship. This was expressed yesterday when a deacon came and said: "Pastor, come and go with me to talk to my neighbor about becoming a Christian."

II FALSE FELLOWSHIP (1:5-6)

"If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth." (V. 6). "God is light and in Him is no darkness at all." (V. 5).

God is holy, and it is His will that we be holy. Some folks think that the soul is saved and that it is the body, or, flesh that sins. They think they will not be responsible. Not so! Your body sins because you make it, or, permitted to do so. You are responsible. God says that if you claim

Christian fellowship while living in sin, you are a liar.

III REAL FELLOWSHIP (1:7)

"If we walk in the light as He is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ His Son cleanseth us from all sin."

There you are! Walking in the light. That is what real fellowship means. When you walk in God's light you have real fellowship, not only with God, but with one another. Note that the light in which we are to walk is not the light of some form of modern psychology; but we are to walk in the true light of God's Word, the Holy Bible.

This can be done only with the help of God. A Christian will not go into some of the places of entertainment that others visit. A Christian will not participate in some of the things in which others take part. Christian fellowship prevents these activities.

CONCLUSION — (V. 8-10) Remember that John is here speaking to Christians.

"If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves and the truth is not in us." A lot of people are deceiving themselves. What they should be doing is found in verse nine: "If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness."

God has made provisions for the Christian to come daily into His presence and confess his sins. This is a part of true Christian fellowship. Let us each take advantage of this blessed privilege. Let us walk in true fellowship with God and one another.

ESTATE PLANNING DECISIONS NECESSARY

If one plans to make lifetime gifts to reduce his eventual estate tax, several decisions must be made. Let's take the case of a single man or a widowed man who has only one beneficiary.

Suppose he is fifty years old and his net worth is $200,000.00, and he plans to leave his property to his niece.

Case 1, if he makes no lifetime gifts and the whole $200,000.00 passes under his will, then there will be a federal estate tax of $32,700.00 thus leaving only $167,300.00 for his niece.

Case 2, if on the other hand he makes a gift to the niece of $100,000.00 now, he will pay now a gift tax of $8,595.00, but the estate tax on the remaining $91,405.00 will only be $3,253.00. This will result in a total tax of only $11,848.00, and the niece's total benefit will be $188,152.00, or $20,852.00 more than in Case 1.

Case 3, the other possibility will be that this man makes a gift to his niece of $5,000.00 a year each year for twenty years in which case the gift tax will only be $375.00 because he takes twenty annual $3,000.00 exclusions. The estate tax will be $4,732.00 thus making the total tax $5,107.00, and the niece will get $194,893.00.

Now the question is, which of these three procedures is best?

Fundamentally, there are just two people to think of, the tax payer and the niece.

The first case produces the largest tax and the least benefit for the niece, but it avoids giving up control of the property.

The second case produces a larger benefit for the niece, but since the uncle can't take back the gift of $100,000, it prevents any later change of plans.

Case three produces the greatest benefit for the niece, and additionally, has the virtue of permitting the tax payer to make a change of plans any where along the line that he pleases. The great disadvantage is if the tax payer dies prematurely his estate tax will be heavier.

From the foregoing, it is apparent that whether or not a person should make lifetime gifts depends not solely upon his desire to save taxes, but rather more upon the accomplishment of his ultimate wishes as to the disposition of his estate.

Larry Jansen Hurls Reds To 8-1 Victory Over Braves; Dodgers Lose; Cardinals Win

By United Press
The Cincinnati Reds were delighted today to forgive and forget eight years of misery at the hands of Larry Jansen.

Purchased from Seattle of the Pacific Coast League last Monday, the 36-year old Jansen made a spectacular return to the big leagues Friday night when he pitched the Reds to an 8-1 win over the Milwaukee Braves in the opener of a key three-game series. The triumph moved the Reds into second place one game behind the first-place Braves and a half length in front of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who bowed to the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-2.

Jansen, who ran up an amazing 24-4 record against the Reds during his career with the New York Giants, limited the Braves to nine hits.

The Reds backed Larry with an eight-hit attack that included a grand slam homer by catcher Ed Bailey.

Relief pitcher Harvey Haddix walked PeeWee Reese intentionally to load the bases and get at Duke Snider, then struck out the National League's home run leader to preserve the Phillies' 11th win in 13 games. Jack Meyer limited the Dodgers to four hits in eight innings but was relieved when he walked the leadoff hitter in the ninth. The Phillies scored all their runs off Sal Maglie in the second inning on a pair of errors, a double by Grady Hamner and singles by Willie Jones and Ted Kazanski.

Stan Musial and Bobby Morgan homered and Whitey Lockman tripled to lead the St. Louis Cardinals to a 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs as Vinegar Bend Mizell picked up his 11th victory. Musial's 20th homer put him within one extra base hit of the National League mark of 1,071 held by Mel Ott.

Bob Friend pitched a five-hitter for his 13th victory as the Pittsburgh Pirates scored a 3-2 decision after the New York Giants completed a suspended game of July 1 with a 7-6 triumph. Bill Virdon's eighth-inning homer was the margin of victory for Friend, who won his first game since July 17.

The New York Yankees retained their 8-1-2 game lead in the American League when they beat the Baltimore Orioles, 5-4, on Mickey Mantle's 460-foot ground rule double that scored Billy Martin in the ninth inning. Tom Sturdivant won his 10th game for the Yankees while Billy Loes suffered his fifth loss despite homers by Dick Williams and Bob Nieman.

Brewer Wins 16th
Tom Brewer scattered eight hits to win his 16th game as the second-place Boston Red Sox beat the Washington Senators, 3-2. Homers by Ted Williams, Sammy White and Dick Gernert produced all Boston's runs. The win was the Red Sox' fourth straight and ninth in 10 games.

Bob Lemon pitched a five-hitter before retiring with an injured leg in the eighth inning as the Cleveland Indians crushed the Kansas City Athletics, 11-0. Rocky Colavito, Jim Busby and Preston Ward paced Cleveland's 11-hit attack with homers.

Dick Donovan pitched six-hit ball as the Chicago White Sox rolled to their fifth straight win with a 6-1 triumph over the Detroit Tigers in the other American League game. Al Kaline's 23rd homer spoiled Donovan's bid for a shut-out.

Legion to Play Paducah Tonight; Uniontown Sunday

The Harrisburg Legion will play a pair of games over the week end. Tonight the Paducah, Ky., Sportsmen, a colored team, will be at the VFW park at 8 o'clock, and Sunday the locals will travel to Uniontown, Ky., to play the Boosters of that city.

Tonight's lineup will find Big Bob Roper on the mound with Dick Romanosky doing the catching. Bob Dallas, Merle Dailey, Dick Odle and Ronnie Ziegler will be on the infield and Frank Logsdon, Guy Hay and Bill McNew will be in the outfield. Don Wallace, Don Stout, John Mills and Aggie Miller will probably see some duty.

Harrisburg players are asked to be out by 6:30 tonight for pre-game practice.

Browns Beat All-Stars, 26-0

Lou Groza Kicks Four Field Goals Against Collegians

CHICAGO (AP) — An "ordinary" pro offense, which included a record four field goals by Lou "The Toe" Groza, was more than good enough to whip the 1956 College All Stars, Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns said today. "Our defense looked a lot better than it did in last year's game," he said, overlooking the 1955 loss by a 30-27 score when he had averaged it by Friday night's 26-0 count. "Our offense was just ordinary."

The Browns displayed expert basic football, though, intercepting two of the All Stars' 10 passes and permitting the collegians to complete only two attempts for 12 yards.

It was good basic football, too, when the pros recovered two of the three All Star fumbles, held the collegiate offense to 121 yards rushing and gave Groza fine protection for his four field goals.

Groza kicked the ball over the crossbars from the 45, 37, 31 and 34 yard lines as well as converting after both Cleveland touchdowns to ring up 14 points for the night, an individual performance eclipsed only by Don Hutson's 19 points for Green Bay in 1940.

It was a new All Star game record for field goals, too, both for an individual and for a team. The individual mark was set by Ohio State's Tad Weal when he kicked three field goals for the All Stars last year. The mark had been set by a team in 1939 when Ward Cuff kicked one field goal and Kenn Strong two in a 9-0 New York Giants win.

Paschen's Chief Clerk Tells Jury His Technique for Soliciting Funds

CHICAGO (AP) — The chief clerk for Cook County Treasurer Herbert C. Paschen told authorities Friday he used a simple technique in soliciting contributions from banks for a special office fund.

"I didn't ask the banks for any specific amount," said Andrew J. Kolar. "I would just call them up and say: 'Well here I am again.'"

The 75-year-old Kolar made the statement at the state's attorney's office, and said it was his duty as Paschen's clerk to get donations from banks where the treasurer's office had money on reserve. His statement was made during a four-hour conference to Asst. State's Atty. Edward Finnegan.

Kolar said the "special" fund was set up in the 1940's by Greenville Beardsley, now first assistant to Illinois Atty. Gen. Latham Castle, and Simon Murray, a Republican committeeman from Chicago's 22nd ward.

Since Friday's statement, Kolar has been requested to appear before the federal and county grand juries here next week. Authorities said they wanted him to tell what he knew of the methods used in selecting banks to receive public money on deposit.

Meanwhile, Paschen, Democratic candidate for governor, has ordered withdrawal of $350,000 in Cook County funds from two banks outside the county.

They are the Bank of Highland Park, in Lake County, and the National Bank of Joliet, in Will County. There was $300,000 on deposit in the Joliet bank and $50,000 in the Highland Park bank.

Lightburn Wins Decision Over Cuban Orlando Zulueta

NEW YORK (AP) — Lightweight contender Ludwig Lightburn of British Honduras said today, "I thought I had to win every round to get the decision," while explaining Friday night's decisive turntable victory over Cuban Orlando Zulueta.

As a reward for his television triumph over veteran Zulueta, who had outpointed Lightburn in the same Madison Square Garden ring last month, the young Honduran awaited cabled confirmation on a four-fight tour of the Orient.

Lightburn was favored at 17-5 despite last month's defeat. Ludwig weighed 141 pounds to Zulueta's 135 1-4.

Volcanoes
To geologists, volcanoes are a surface phenomenon, even though they erupt with tremendous violence. Origin of their heat and energy is at most 25 to 30 miles below the surface of the earth.

Northern pike are the only fish in North Dakota that carry a minimum size limit. They must be at least 18 inches in length.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

Conan Smith, native of West Frankfort and formerly coach at Equality high school, has accepted a position on the coaching staff at Arkansas State College, Jonesboro, Ark.

At Arkansas, Smith will be head athletic trainer and an assistant in basketball and track. He received his master's degree in athletic training in June from the University of Indiana where he served as a faculty assistant and assistant athletic trainer.

Smith was coach at Equality when Bob Pitchers made sport page headlines throughout the state for his outstanding running. Pitchers captured the mile run in the state track meet and established a new district record under the guiding hand of Coach Smith.

Dr. Charles Elder, Eldorado dentist, captured the big gold cup in the Benton Country Club golf tournament with a score of 143. Elder had a score of 73 for the first round of play and came back the second day with a two-under-par 70 to score a two stroke victory over the next three closest players, tied with 145 each.

The Cairo high school football field, known as Schultz Field, is having its one big defect corrected and when the work is completed it will be one of the finest in southern Illinois.

A building for dressing rooms, public rest rooms and an officials' room is being constructed. Schultz Field has permanent bleachers that will accommodate large crowds, a good score board, lots of parking room inside the field, good lighting, and the grass is always in fine shape.

But the field is located several blocks from the high school, nearest available dressing rooms. In the past teams dressed at the school, went to the field by bus. At half time the teams either rested on the field or in bad weather huddled in the bus. And after the game another trip was necessary to the high school to change from grid to street attire.

Now that is being eliminated. The dressing rooms and other facilities will be greatly appreciated by players, fans and coaches.

Anna-Jonesboro high school will host a basketball tourney next Jan. 15-18 and is still looking for one more team to complete the eight-school field. Entries to date are Carbondale Attucks, Mounds Douglas, Elkhart, Shawnee, Hurst-Bush, Carbondale University High and host A.J.

Benton was the eighth school last year, but a conflict in dates kept Benton from returning.

The 1956 baseball season is barely past its two-thirds mark, but the St. Louis Cardinals have already tied their club record in the number of players employed in one season. When Bob Blaylock was called up on July 22, says The Sporting News, he was the forty-fifth player to appear in the Cardinal lineup. That tied the number used in 1951. Incidentally, only four players on the present roster were Cardinals in 1951—Stan Musial, Tom Poholsky, Jackie Collum and Rocky Nelson.

One of the best cracks of the season came from Dale Long of Pittsburgh after the recent scuffle between Duke Snider of the Dodgers and a Cincinnati fan. As relayed by Writer Les Biederman of Pittsburgh, Long said: "Snider couldn't have hit the fan, because the fan was a lefthander and Snider doesn't hit lefthanders."

West Rockford Coach Resigns

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—Alex Saudargas, whose West Rockford High School Warriors won two consecutive state high school basketball championships, has resigned his coaching job, Jim Johnston, sports editor of the Rockford Register Republic, reported today.

Saudargas, 40-year-old father of 10 children, quit to become zone manager for the Investors Diversified Services Inc.

He said it was "a rough decision."

"Up to now, I haven't been able to support my family on a teacher's salary and have always had to have a part-time job on the side," he said. "I've had seven years experience in sales work and I like it."

Saudargas guided his 1954-55 and 1955-56 squads to the prep championship. During the nine years he coached at West High, his basketball teams had a record of 183 victories and 39 defeats. Both this year's and last year's squads had identical records of 28-1, and both were undefeated in two 10-game seasons in the Big Eight League.
